In 1621, the Pilgrims crossed the ocean on the Mayflower.

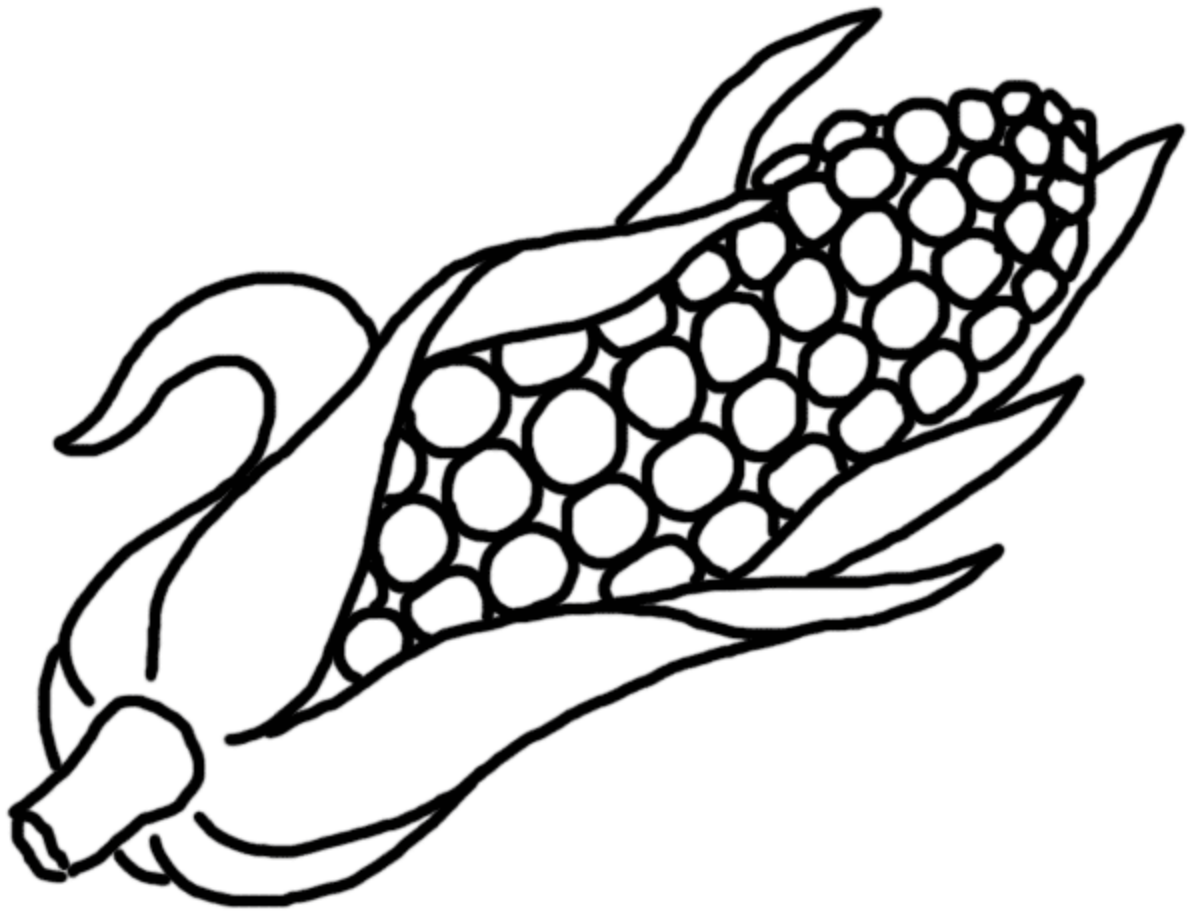

They settled in Plymouth, Massachusetts and started a new life.

The first winter was hard. Many Pilgrims died.

In the spring, they made friends with the natives.

The Indians helped them to plant corn.

The Pilgrims harvested lots of food.

To give thanks, a great feast was planned.

For three days, the Pilgrims and Indians ate, sang, played games, and danced.

The Pilgrims thanked God for the harvest.

It was the first Thanksgiving!
